WALT draft my own story

Find your story map from yesterday and talk through your story with an adult or a partner.

Today you are going to begin drafting your own story based on The Great Kapok Tree.

Before we begin, we need to create a toolkit so you know what you need to include.

Must

Should

Could

Must	Should	Could
Capital letters and full stops	Adverbs	Similes, personification, metaphor
Adjectives and expanded noun phrases	Show not tell language	Synonyms for 'said'
Conjunctions (FANBOYS and A WHITE BUS)	Fronted adverbials
	Speech punctuation

We are ONLY writing the first paragraph today. This paragraph focuses on the setting and describing the rainforest.

Look at the fronted adverbial which starts the paragraph. How could you start your paragraph? Remember to look at your story map AND your description of the rainforest from last week to help you when you start writing.

One hot sunny day...

When you have finished the first paragraph, use a coloured pen or pencil to edit and make any improvements. Use the toolkit to make sure you have included all the features of an exciting story.
