WALT: To publish our own set of instructions

Brain Warm Up:

Today we are publishing our instructions so I would like you to warm up your hands ready for some writing!

Today we are publishing our instructions. There is a blank writing frame on the website you might want to print or you could use a new page in your exercise book. Think about the layout of the model text before you start. Concentrate on your handwriting and presentation.

At the end you may want to draw pictures to help explain your instructions.

Good luck!

Key Information about the Yellow Bottom Dragon:

Have you ever wanted to keep a unique pet? The Yellow Bottom Dragon has a distinctive wide mouth full of dagger-like teeth. Due to its lazy nature, you will find them nestled in piles of leaves taking frequent naps. However, don't be fooled by this peaceful picture as should the Yellow Bottom Dragon become hungry its vast wings will start fluttering ferociously and the situation can turn dangerous! Below is how to prevent this from happening.

What you need:

- A dragon whistle
- A collar
- Plenty of food
- Dragon's den.
- Bucket of water

What you do:

1. First, collect dragon food such as: mice, rats and the bodies of other lesser creatures. You must make sure to avoid giving the Yellow Bottom Dragon any vegetables as this can give them hideous hiccups that last two weeks.
2. Next, lay the dragon feast on a flat rock. Make sure the rock you choose has enough room for your creature to lie next to it as this is the Yellow Bottom Dragon's favourite position when eating.
3. After that, provide a bucket of water as dragons always like to drink after eating.
4. Then, retire to a safe distance before letting your pet out for its dinner. Remember that a hungry dragon may well mistake you for its next meal so a simple disguise is essential...
5. Finally, keep your pet lodged in a simple dragon's den. These have to be custom-made and can be purchased at your local 'Dragons R Us' store. They should be made of fireproof material. At first you may keep a very young dragon in the house, but as it grows larger, you will have to find an outdoor spot as a sleeping dragon will snore
